The _____ that hit our planet 66 million years ago threw up a lot of debris that blocked the sun for many years.

Small feathered dinosaurs that evolved the ability to _____ survived the impact of the asteroid.

Today there are over 10,000 species of _____ on the planet, each of which descended from dinosaurs.

It is not possible to _____ a dinosaur now, and it probably never will be, so the best place to see them is in a museum.

People have discovered dinosaur _____ during normal activities like taking a walk in the neighborhood.
